State commission denies approval based on BMR recommendations

BY MARY G. SEILEY
Plans for Galaxy Casino were shot down Wednesday by the state Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

In a 3-0 vote with one abstention, the commission upheld the negative findings of the Bureau of Marine Resources concerning the $60 million development between Buccaneer State Park and Lakeshore Drive.

"We won't give up," said Galaxy president Alvin Perry after the meeting Wednesday in Jackson, terming himself "very disappointed" at the commission's action. He termed the vote an "arbitrary" decision.

"We're not quite sure if we got a fair hearing or not," Perry said. "The project is a good project, an environmentally sound project and the reasons for rejecting it are subjective, not objective."

Perry said he may seek a rehearing in the case, or turn to the court system for relief -- "whatever is required to get the project back on course."

BMR officials had argued that the Galaxy site is a heavily used recreational fishing spot amid a residential area, uses which are not "compatible" with a gambling casino, said the bureau's Jennifer Buchanan.

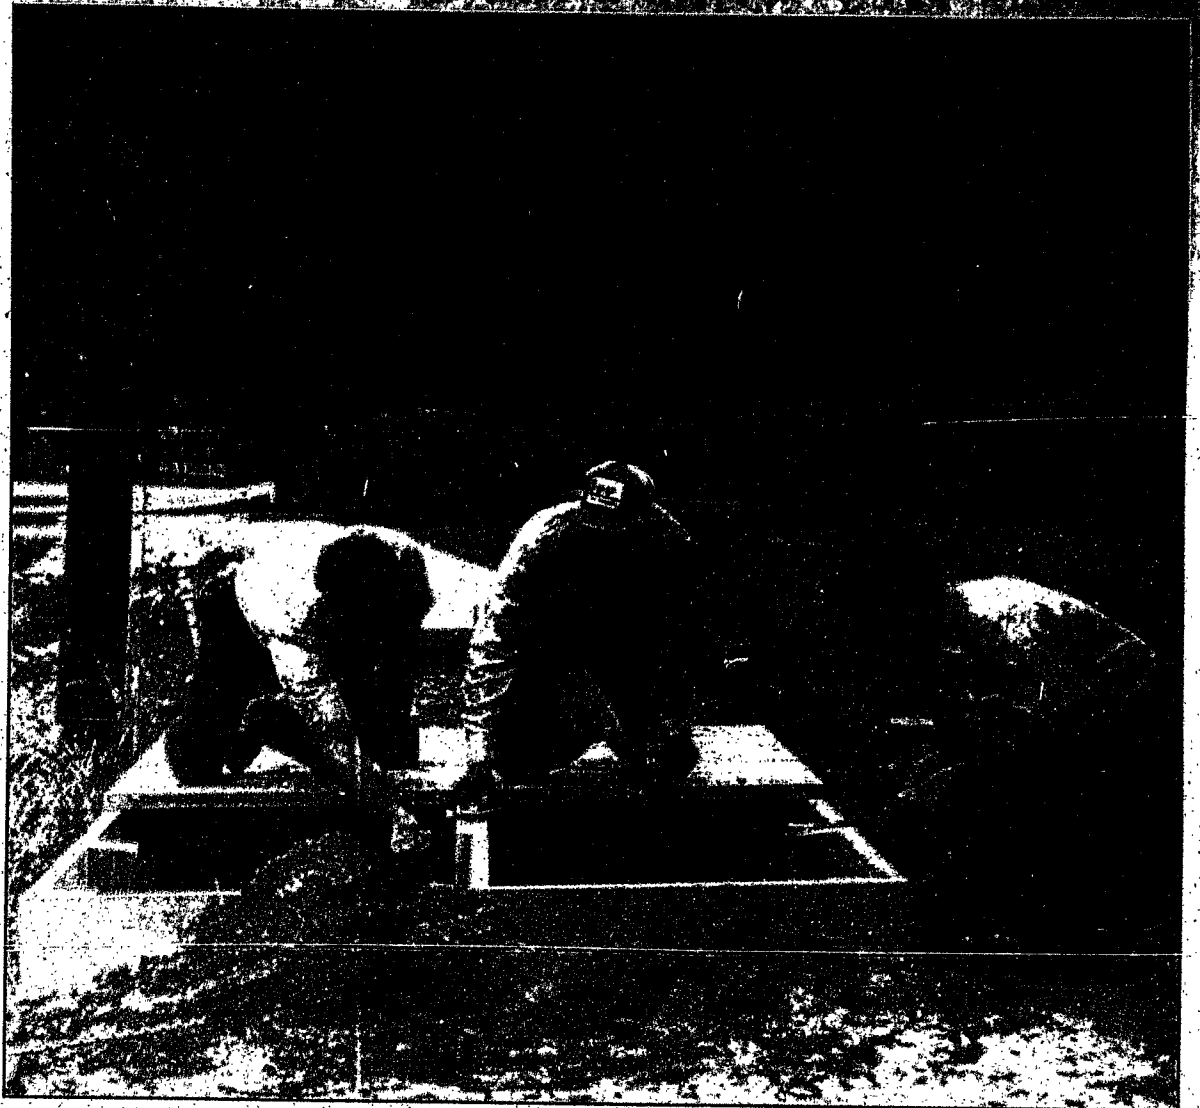

The gaming facility's proposed site is designated for preservation as an area conducive to establishing sea grass beds in the future, she said. And she added that BMR was concerned over the impact the casino construction would have on an extensive marsh system north of the Galaxy site.

Wednesday's official action was to reject a change in the coastal use plan's zone for the site, from a General Use District to a Special Use District. When that request was rejected, the commission had no need to consider the remainder of the Galaxy application for dredging and wetlands permits.

The Galaxy plan called for dredging a 1,600-foot channel, 120 feet wide and 10.7 feet deep,

Dunbar sidewalk

City workers are wrapping up construction of a 2,000-foot sidewalk on Dunbar Avenue. The new pathway extends from North Bay Elementary to Corinth Drive, and is the first part of a $100,000 sidewalk construction program the city budgeted this year. Public Works Director Ronald J. Vanney said his crews likely will set to work building sidewalks on de Montluzin Street next, from Second Street to Dunbar. The program also should cover sidewalk construction on Old Spanish Trail, from Main to Washington, and on Ulman Street, from Second to Dunbar, Vanney said. Fire marshal sets record straight

BY AMY PICKICH
Hancock County Fire Marshal Richard Pate said according to an investigation by the State Fire Marshal's office, the cause of a fire that destroyed a historic beachfront home last Tuesday morning was an electrical problem.

Insurance investigators were also involved in the investigation.

"We determined at this time that it was an electrical fire," Pate said.

The initial fire apparently began near the air-conditioning unit on the first floor he said.

Pate also responded to accusations that Bay St. Louis fire fighters were negligent in their response to the fire. In the March 24 edition of The Sea Coast Echo, a letter to the editor criticized Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Andrew Lizana and his staff in their response to the fire.

"In my professional opinion, the fire department did a fantastic job," Pate said.

According to Pate, Bay firemen responded to a call between 10-10:30 Monday night, March 21 and then at 12:30 a.m. Tuesday morning, March 22. He said firemen searched the house for about 2 1/2 hours.

Pate said he personally knows that the firemen who responded were "very experienced, skilled and concerned firemen who did the best they could do under the circumstances."

Pate said the structure of the old house prevented them from finding the fire.

He said the problem was that old houses such as the Brignac house have "void spaces," or hollow spaces that aren't easy to Jail renovation misses deadline

BY MARY G. SEILEY
A deadline extension hasn't helped bail Hancock County officials out of a jailhouse crisis. The county had until March 1 to create a separate housing area for juvenile offenders at the jail, under federal and state mandates. Although the deadline was slipped to April 1, construction hasn't begun. That means that as of Friday, even youths guilty of violent crimes involving guns will be placed under house arrest, said Youth Court Judge Ann Williamson.

Sometimes house arrest works well, she said, but sometimes it "fails miserably," depending on the level of parental cooperation.

Youths sentenced to state training schools routinely have been detained in the Hancock County jail while awaiting transport to the training schools.

A month ago, Williamson warned the county Board of Supervisors that the deadline for separating youths from adults at the jail was looming. The board awarded a $14,950

Sand marches on

Sea birds feasting on the by-products of the sand beach renourishment project can't afford to become too fat, as 1,500 yards of sand per hour spews onto the new beach, which is growing by about 600 feet per day. T.L. James & Company employees are working around the clock on the $2.9 million project which will extend the beach from Washington Street in Bay St. Louis to the Buccaneer State Park area in Waveland. Workers urge the public to use extreme caution while the project continues during the next four to six weeks. (Echo photo by Randy Ponder)

Gaming $$$ roll in

BY MARY G. SEILEY
The two casinos in Hancock County recently shoveled out over $350,000 to local city, county and school authorities. The payouts, based on gaming proceeds, include $114,745 from Jubilee Casino to Hancock County, $232,791 from Casino Magic to the city of Bay St. Louis, and $18,647 from Casino Magic to the Bay-Waveland school district.

The Jubilee check to Hancock County is the second payment that casino has made since opening Jan. 7. Combined, the casino's checks total $180,510 for the county.

The city of Bay St. Louis has taken in over $1.3 million from Casino Magic since the start of the fiscal year in October.

Under a local and private bill's provisions, Hancock County's gaming receipts are to be split among several county agencies and some of it is escrowed for future property tax cuts.

County officials say the division of Jubilee proceeds for

Three BHS females arrested after fight

BY AMY PICKICH

Hancock County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said three juvenile females were arrested Saturday, March 19, after officers investigated an alleged fight at Hancock High School.

According to police reports, Peterson said officers were called around 8:40 p.m. that night to HHS when a fight broke out during a track meet in which a number of schools were participating.

He said the fight involved three Bay High School female students against one Hancock High School female student.

Peterson said when officers arrived, the fight which had appa-

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

Good Friday's throne

"Fit for a king," "Living like a king," "A king-sized portion," and many similar phrases characterize what it means to be a king, to have what a king has,
and to do the privileged kinds of things a king does.

All this was shot to pieces on the first Good Friday when the King of kings ruled from a totally different throne inscribed:
"Jesus of Nazareth, King of the Jews."

Completely unfinished, as opposed to the elegant, expensive finish of worldly thrones, this one was made of just two large logs hewn to be crossed for the purpose of crucifixion.

Delivery of the throne happened in the most special way possible: the King himself carried/dragged it up to the commanding hill where he was to establish his reign over all.

There was another incredibly vast difference between other kings' and this king's relation to his throne. He had created the very wood from which it was made; indeed, he had created the hill of crucifixion together with the whole universe.

Yet, the Ruler of the universe, having taken upon himself the form of a slave,
"humbled himself, becoming obedient to death, even death on a cross" (Phil. 2: 7-8).

Worldly kings hold their sway from a vantage point of power and prestige. Here was a king stumbling up to Calvary with no vestige of power. Au-contraire, he was so vulnerable that prophets had compared him to a lamb mute before the shearer.

In contrast to mundane rulers who are well bathed, well oiled, beautifully coiffed and immaculately dressed, this ruler was filthy, grimy, sweaty, streaked with matted blood dripping from thorns in his skull and wounds to his body.

Earthly potentates make certain to maintain a dramatic,
"stately look about them; accompanied by a carbon-copy smile.
This cross-laden chief was described by the prophet Isaiah in the most fearsome, poignant terms:

"There was in him no . . .
appearance that would attract us to him. He was spurned and avoided by people, a man of suffering, accustomed to infirmity;
one of those from whom people hide their faces" (Is. 53: 2-3).

Very briefly on Palm Sunday, he had seemed to enjoy some of the trappings, pomp and applause which are the daily fare of earthbound kings. However, that fleeting experience turned around with a vengeance in just five short days.

Ordinary rulers look forward to a long, fulfilling life, in the spirit of the chant: "Long live the king!"

This Messiah could hear only the baleful words of Caiaphas the high priest: "You know nothing, nor do you consider that it is better for you that one man should die instead of the people, so that the whole nation may not perish" (Jn. 11:50).

Everyone else was born with at least the alleged intention of living, whereas this Ruler was born to die in the prime of his life in order that we might live forever:

contract last August to the Samuel Day Construction Co. to build a wall and doorway, creating a youthful offender housing area.

Project architect Fred Wagner said Tuesday the contractor is "very embarrassed and chagrined over the matter." But, Wagner said, the contractor's supplier hasn't delivered the special door and frame that are required for the project.

"His supplier promised it to him a month ago, he promised it to him two weeks ago, he promised it to him yesterday and it still hasn't come," said Wagner.

An explosion of jail construction projects all over the country has specialized materials in high demand, he said. While the Hancock project lacks only one door and door frame, he said, orders for hundreds of such materials apparently have taken precedence in the supply pipeline.

"Our little order ... gets pushed aside," Wagner said. "All we can do is wait. I can't create these things out of the air."

Meanwhile, Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said Tuesday he's always tried to keep youthful offenders in a separate area of the jail, as far away as possible from adult inmates. And, he said, normally his department transports youths to training school facilities within a day or two of being sentenced.

Still, Peterson acknowledged that arrangement doesn't satisfy the separation standards that go into effect April 1. Peterson said the county possibly could avoid state and federal sanctions after April 1 by showing that the county has done everything possible to get the renovations under construction.

Williamson, however, said she's not willing to test that theory. "I will not send them" to the jail, she said of under-age offenders. "I will not violate a federal law."

She said she could be held personally liable if she ordered youths to be housed in the non-satisfactory jail accommodations. Peterson could also be held liable if he accepts such temporary inmates, she said.

Williamson said she doubts Harrison County officials can help house Hancock's juveniles until the renovations are complete, because the neighboring county facility has capacity problems of its own.

The judge said she's impressed with monitoring equipment that is available to ensure that those in house arrest situations do, in fact, stay at home. But Hancock has no such monitors to use.

While there were no juvenile offenders being detained in the jail on Tuesday, Williamson said there are times when as many as 10 are.

Once construction begins at the jail, it will take only a few days to complete, Wagner said. For safety reasons, he and Peterson don't want to start construction until all materials are available.

Galaxy's land-based facilities would have on environmentally sensitive property across South Beach Boulevard from the vessel.

Jim Walker of the commission staff said aside from concern over changing a fishing area into a gaming site, some commissioners were concerned about the increase in traffic the facility would bring to the area.

In addition, there was concern over the impact that Galaxy's land-based facilities would have on environmentally sensitive property across South Beach Boulevard from the vessel.

Plans called for construction of a garage and hotel on high-ground Galaxy has been acquiring in the Gulfview subdivision area. Much of the adjacent Galaxy site, however, is unusable wetlands.

Perry said he thought Galaxy developers had satisfactorily addressed all the issues raised by BMR staffers who made the negative recommendations to the commission.

get to because of remodeling over the years. The fire apparently stayed in a void space until it found an oxygen source, then engulfed the house he said.

Pate added that the insurance investigators also said it's not unusual for a fire to burn like that.

"It's a thankless job," he said. "Most of the complaints about the fire department and the police department is from people who don't know what they are talking about. They rely on speculation and hearsay."

He said what those people don't realize that firefighters put their life on the line and are not paid a lot for what they do.

Pate said the bottom line is the department had the equipment, training and skills and did what they could, but the nature of the fire prevented them from saving the house.

"They lose old houses like that in New Orleans all the time and they have more equipment and people than we do," he said.

Pate said in all his years of firefighting he has not found two fires alike. He said no two can be dealt with the same way.

More than 30 area firefighters responded to the four-hour blaze at 920 South Beach Blvd. early Tuesday. According to Bay St. Louis Fire Chief Andrew Lizana, the roof fell in, and the house was totally destroyed.

Diane Ladner, daughter of the house's owner, Edmond Brignac Sr., and a 9-year-old boy escaped unharmed.

Pate said he would also like to commend Mrs. Ladner on her quick response to get herself and her grandson out of the house.

The house, which is listed on the National Register of Historic Places, was originally built in 1912. The Brignacs have owned the home since 1943.

rently occurred near the concession area, was over and the three Bay High girls had left.

According to Peterson officers arrested one 16-year-old and two 15-year-old females later that night, who were charged with aggravated assault.

Peterson said the incident, which developed on school grounds, will be handled by the youth court.

The incident was also the reason for a special meeting of the Bay-Waveland School Board Monday. As the single item on the agenda, the student matter was held in executive session with more than 30 people present.

An officer, who was requested to attend the hearing, and a few others waited outside after the crowd voiced concerns that the matter be discussed in executive session since the press was present.

After the meeting Bay-Waveland School Superintendent Paul Tisdale said the executive session dealt with an expulsion hearing in which no students were expelled.

Tisdale said the students were suspended and expects no other school board action on the matter.

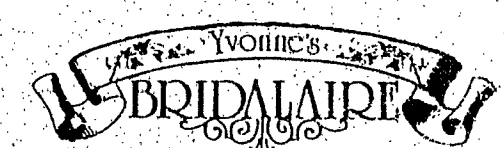

Tisdale said he could not comment further on the matter since it involved students and was held in executive session. He did verify that the hearing was the result of the fight that occurred at Hancock County High School.

QUOTABLE QUOTES

By Bill C. Cline

Holy Week services continue at many local churches with special Easter services scheduled for Sunday. As an annual event, the Hancock County Community Easter Sunrise Service will be on the lawn of Christ Episcopal Church, South Beach Beach Boulevard, Bay St. Louis.

The services are set for 6:30 a.m., and one must remember that Daylight Savings Time begins Sunday morning at 2 a.m.

You will have to set your clocks ahead one hour Saturday night or Sunday morning.

The annual Easter Sunrise service is sponsored by the community churches affiliated with the Hancock County Emergency Relief.

Ministers scheduled to participate include the Rev. Dr. Arthur (Nick) Johnson, Christ Episcopal; the Rev. Bobby Dailey, Valena C. Jones United Methodist; the Rev. Francis Theriault, SVD, St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church; the Rev. Ron Skinner, Word of Faith Christian Fellowship; the Rev. Van Carpenter, Main Street and Waveland United Methodist; the Rev. Vernon Knight, Lutheran Church of the Pines; the Rev. Richard Jones, First Presbyterian; the Rev. Michael Sucjarski, SVD, St. Augustine Seminary; and the Rev. Lee Morris Sr., New Orleans Home Baptist.

The Easter message is to be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Ed J. Deuschle, pastor of First Baptist of Bay St. Louis.

Special music will be provided by Peggy Tedford and Sharon Wilcox.

At the conclusion of the service, refreshments will be served in Virginia Hall, compliments of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce.

There will be other Easter Sunrise services in the area, too.

I hope to see you at the Easter Sunrise Service.

Spring forward and fall backward is the way I keep up with the time changes each year in Spring and Fall. This was after several reminders from readers many years ago.

Sunday morning is one of those spring forward mornings when we set our clocks up one hour at 2 a.m.

I am sure there will still be those who forget and end up one hour late for their church services on Sunday.

I wish they would set the time one way and leave it there.

I hear more and more people complain about the time changes, because they get used to getting up at one time and then have to advance and fall back one hour annually.

I know there are reasons for the time changes, and maybe one day they will come up with a solution.

Countywide garbage collection in Hancock County has been a long time in coming and becomes a reality tomorrow, April 1.

Household garbage is all that is to be collected in the county area on a once-a-week basis.

Residents are asked to place garbage in tied plastic bags or 32 gallon or less garbage cans.

The contract for the collection has been made by Hancock County with Boudin Waste and Recycling, which is operated by Joey Boudin.

The contract with Boudin with the county does not include leaves, tree trimmings, wood, tires, grass, metal or other types of trash.

Boudin said all garbage should be placed at the mail box by 6:30 a.m. on the morning of the collection day. It must be placed on the edge of the road, not across ditches or fences.

Monday collections will be in areas north of I-10 up to and including Firetower Road (Kiln, Fenton and Jourdan River Shores).

Tuesdays, areas north of Firetower Road and east of Highway 603 to the Harrison and Pearl River County lines (Standard, Sellers and Necaise).

Wednesdays, areas south of I-10, except Pearlington (Shoreline Park, Bayside Park, Clermont Harbor, Lakeshore and Ansley).

Thursdays, all of Pearlington.

Fridays, areas north of Firetower Road and west of Highway 603 to the Pearl River County line (Leetown and White Cypress).

I am sure there will be questions about the garbage collection, and you can call Boudin's Waste and Recycling 467-5452 for further information.

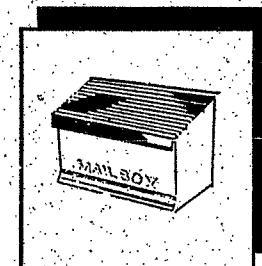

In setting up the contract, a house count was made. There were far more house than anticipated by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

I am sure there will be some problems on the collections for the first few time, but all should be worked out.

One must remember there wasn't a countywide garbage collection ever before, and this is something new.

Golden Bean award

Hancock County Board of Supervisors' beans received the Golden Bean award at the 4th annual Hancock County Chapter of the American Cancer Society's Red Beans and Rice Cook-off held Monday at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club. Those accepting the award were, from left, Supervisor Howard Lizana, Wilbur LaFleur, Supervisor Wilmer Seymour and Supervisor Robert Peterson. The Golden Bean award was selected by cookbook author and Times-Picayune columnist Marcelle Bienvenu. Local judges had first selected the two top competitors in three categories, those being restaurants, business and industry and governmental agencies. (Staff photo by Amy Pickich).

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Brignac family grateful for support of many

Dear Editor,

Our entire family would like to thank the citizens of Bay St. Louis and surrounding areas for their support during the fire which destroyed our family home on South Beach Boulevard.

We are extremely grateful for the outpouring of community kindness and concern over the past few days. It has been especially touching to discover that our feelings of sadness and loss are shared by so many others in the community.

We are grateful to the Bay St. Louis Fire and Police Department and those from our neighbor communities and would especially like to thank neighbor Richard Johnson, who managed to remove a few cherished possessions before the house was engulfed in flames.

Sincerely,
The Family of Eunice Brignac

Children should be prohibited in beach renourishment area

To the Editor:

As a resident of Waveland, in the beachfront area that is being revived by the county, I'd like to say "bravo" to a job being well done!

Unfortunately, watching the progress while on my route to and from home, I have been very disturbed by the number of children who are out there playing alongside gushing sand, bulldozers, jagged pipes and other heavy equipment.

It is an accident waiting to happen. The work area should be closed off to the public, at least during working hours.

I hope we don't have to wait for a tragedy to mar this otherwise grand re-building before the areas are secured for safety sake.

I pray the respective authorities will read this and take responsible action. Please protect the kids from injury and the county from lawsuits.

Rural garbage pickup should be twice weekly

Dear Editor,

Concerning the recent issue of county garbage collections, as a county resident, I do not object to garbage pickups.

I do, however, think once a week is not enough. As a family of five, we take our garbage to the dumpsters two to three times a week.

If collections will only be once a week, then the dumpsters should remain open for in between and weekend dumping.

If our garbage, or our weekend neighbors' garbage, sits out all week waiting for pickup, it will not only cause a land and air pollution problem, but a water pollution problem, as we live on a canal.

(Who can stop cats from climbing into garbage?)

Regardless of what Mayor Stella Frilot thinks, we do not like garbage in our homes or our back yards, and certainly wouldn't bury it there. How would she like her garbage picked up once a week?

Either do it right or leave it alone. After all, we are not asking for this, she is "forcing" it on us, to quote her words.

Sincerely,
Lanita Granger

Suggestions for Waveland Civil Service program

To the Editor:

I would like to express my concerns about some of the provisions of the proposed Civil Service Law covering Waveland City employees. I am not opposed to the concept of civil service except for those provisions which will be harmful to the future operations of the city government.

As before stated I do not object to the adoption of civil service protection for our city employees, but suggest that the program be amended to include the following:

1. All city employees should complete a one-year probationary period after the effective date of the plan. Also, it is inconsistent with good government to have department heads covered in any event.

2. The proposed law grants special status to the city secretary (city clerk) for reasons which are not apparent.

3. The proposed law restricts forever the right of any city administration to adjust salary levels on individual positions as might be required by changing conditions.

4. The proposed law should not become effective until ratified by the board of aldermen which will be elected December 1994. This would have the effect of allowing the voters of Waveland to express their opinions on the issue.

Citizens of Waveland please let your aldermen know how you feel about this. It is too important a matter to allow the present administration impose its will on all future administrations.

U.S. should not use metric system

To the Editor:

The Federal Government's move to metrication is on again! In the 1970s it was tried and soundly defeated. Today the government demands that food items like a can of peas be labeled with the weight in grams.

Who in America wants to know that a 16-ounce can of peas weighs 453.6 grams? The Federal Highway Administration is also on the bandwagon. Who in America wants to know that a highway mile is 1609.3 meters long?

Whoever wants to know can look it up in a book. Americans have their own English units language.

Why does the government want to turn us into illiterates? Ask the Canadians, who went metric decades ago. Their older generation thinks in ounces and miles but is forced to buy grams and to travel kilometers.

In 1988 Congress approved a change to metrics, and in 1991 George Bush issued an executive order for the bureaucracy to promote metrics. But don't 260 million Americans have the right to decide issues that could turn them into illiterates overnight?

Imported foreign goods in English units or metrics already are competing effectively in America with America's manufacturers in English units. Pushing America's businesses to convert to metrics in order to compete in America is to deprive them of their protective "tariff" advantage of producing in the English units demand by Americans.

If American businesses are not already competing in foreign markets with metric goods produced here or made abroad, to begin to do so in metric units while familiar only with English units is to invite them into outright bankruptcy when confronting goods in metric units, which for many decades have enjoyed the approval of those overseas markets.

The costs of converting a manufacturing plant to producing goods in metric can be ruinously expensive. Witness Caterpillar Corp's (tractors, etc.) plant investment of $2 billion to convert.

If all of America's manufacturers turn to metrics, all of America's present goods, like a simple house door 3 feet wide (36 inches) no longer can be replaced, except if the whole supporting structure be converted first to accept the new door size 1 meter wide (39.37 inches) — and who is to pay the added expense burden involved, but the American homeowner?

If America is to convert to metrics, why do so by government totalitarianism? Evolution through natural market forces is the only approach for a Constitutional America.

Does government forget it should be for the people and that deep down fundamental revolutions of this nature should be made only by the people?

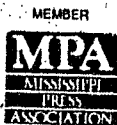

Sincerely,
Akbar F. Brinsmade

Easter morning worship services are planned at 6:30 at two sites in the county.

An Ecumenical Sunrise Service will be held at the Diamondhead Community Center for residents of the community and surrounding area.

The inter-denominational service is sponsored by Diamondhead Baptist Church, Diamondhead Community Church, St. Thomas Episcopal Church and Diamondhead United Methodist Church.

The annual Hancock County Community Easter Sunrise Service will be April 3 at Christ Episcopal Church lawn, South Beach Boulevard in Bay St. Louis.

This service is sponsored by community churches affiliated with the Hancock County Emergency Relief Organization. Refreshments will be served in Virginia Hall at the conclusion of the service, compliments of the Chamber of Commerce.

Program personalities for this year's service include the host pastor of Christ Episcopal Church, the Rev. Dr. Arthur "Nick" Johnson; the Rev. Bobby Dailey, Valena C. Jones United Methodist Church; the Rev. Francis Theriault SVD, St.

Rose de Lima Catholic Church; the Rev. Ron Skinner, Word of Faith Christian Fellowship; the Rev. Van Carpenter, Main Street United Methodist Church; the Rev. Vernon Knight, Lutheran Church of the Pines; the Rev. Richard Jones, First Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Michael Sucharski SVD, St. Augustine Seminary; and the Rev. Lee Morris Sr., New Home Baptist Church.

Special music will be provided by Peggy Tedford and Sharon Wilcox.

The Easter message will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. Ed J. Deuschle, pastor of First Baptist Church of Bay St. Louis.

The public is invited to attend. A spokesman for the church said the area will be sprayed for gnats, since the service is outdoors.

FOR YOUR INFORMATION

By Mike Meyers
State Farm Insurance

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following column will be published weekly. Topics will be addressed by various professionals in the community on a rotating basis.

This year, one in every eight drivers will be involved in a traffic accident, according to National Safety Council figures.

Although we hope you will never be that one, you need to be prepared if it does happen.

Here are some easy steps to follow while at the scene of an accident:

—If it is safe and legal, move your vehicle out of the roadway.

—Stop your vehicle and turn off its ignition.

—Check the safety of all those involved in the accident.

—Call the police. If necessary, call emergency services, too.

Discuss details about the accident only with the police and a known insurance representative.

Write down the other driver's license number.

—Exchange insurance company information.

What should you do after an accident?

County garbage pickup

Only household garbage will be accepted. Trash, such as tree limbs, leaves and tires should be taken to the county dump.

Friday's collection route covers areas north of Firetower Road and west of Mississippi 603 to the Pearl River County line, including Leetown and White Cypress.

Monday, Boudin's will pick up in areas north of Interstate 10, up to and including Firetower Road. Communities covered include Kiln, Penton and Jordan River Shores.

Thursday pickups include all areas in and around Pearlinton.

Recycling center near Stennis to remain open

Hancock County residents may continue to use the recycling drop-off center outside the south gate at Stennis Space Center after the county's other two recycling centers close on March 31.

The recycling drop-off centers at the Washington-Chapman and the North Barn compactor sites will close on March 31 in conjunction with the closing of all Hancock County compactor sites. The recycling site that will remain open is located in the parking lot outside Stennis' south gate.

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors and Gulf Coast Recycling are investigating the feasibility of re-opening additional recycling drop-off centers in the near future. The drop-off centers are a one-year recycling demonstration project funded by the Mississippi Department of Environmental Quality.

DIAMONDHEAD

Pilgrimage was quite a success

By Margaret Witherspoon

DIAMONDHEAD SPRING
Wednesday, March 23, some 600 of these visitors visited our community for the 47th annual Spring Pilgrimage, sponsored by the Mississippi Gulf Coast Council of Garden Clubs.

Diamondhead's welcome was a showing of flowering dogwoods, azaleas, spring flowers in profusion everywhere. It was beautiful.

The lovely homes of the Loiaconos, Ramirezes and Espinosas, each totally different in design and decor, were open, with members of the garden club doing a great job as hostesses.

And what better way to spend a day than to visit four different gardens. The weather was warm, and the rain stayed away, so our guests could enjoy our wonderful "Paradise."

Annette Saucier, chairman of the event, did a great job of putting all this together.

Mrs. James (Joann) Powell, whose educational exhibit is pictured above.

"Flower Drum Song" was the title assigned to Joann, and by using articles and plants of Oriental origin (but bloom and grow well in Mississippi) she created this award-winning display.

Some of the plants used were loquat, hawthorne, azalea, creeping fig, bridal wreath, camelia, bamboo, monkey grass, red bud, red tip and cysanthemums.

The colorful jacket used as a central focus was bought in China, as were the dragon, fan and laughing Buddha.

Suspended from the China 'boy' were baskets filled with red tip (photina). Thanks to Ms. Powell and all the others who contributed something, making this flower show one of the best ever.

FAIR TIME

A Spring Merchants Fair is planned for Saturday, April 9 at the Diamondhead Mall. Businesses will be open from 7 a.m. until.

The Supermarket will have a truck load sale, and there will be numerous other attractions, prizes and give-aways. Everyone is invited to come out and support local merchants.

NEWCOMERS

"Friendship, Fellowship and Fun" is what those ladies in the Diamondhead Newcomers Club are all about.

They are having a Spring Into Spring with La Las Fashion's at a brunch Apr. 15, 11:30 a.m. at the Diamondhead Yacht Club. Send your checks for $11 ASAP by Apr. 10 to Evelyn Kibler, 6525 Koula Dr., as space is limited.

REMINDERS

AARP meeting is Tuesday, Apr. 5, 3 p.m. at the community center.

Guest speaker will be Russell Miller, chairman, Health Commission, Mississippi State AARP, who will talk on important health matters.

The Diamondhead Women's Club meets Wednesday, Apr. 6, 10 a.m. at the community center. A CPR demonstration will be held, and plans for a repeat performance of the popular musical, featuring those excellent "Cats" on Apr. 23. Please call Terri Downie at 255-7801 for details.

LATE BLOOMERS

"Mr. Carl" he's called by his art students (age 60 and over) who attend his art classes at the senior citizens center on Old Spanish Trail in Bay St. Louis every Monday and Wednesday from 9 a.m.-3 p.m. Mr. Carl Baldenhofer tells his students that "if you can draw your breath, that's all you need."

At age 91, Mr. Carl has drawn quite a few breaths, and they say he is sure to draw many more. He is a good teacher and a man who, although patient, can never be still.

One very talented lady from our community, Mrs. Lorraine Brown, has benefitted from his methods and talent, and her art work is just beautiful. Congratulations, Lorraine, on making the "front page!"

You seniors out there who would like to try holding a paint brush (even for the very first time) please call 467-9292 or 467-5787 for details.

THOUGHTS TO SHARE

Laughter can add more years to your life than step class.

Some people measure their lives in pulse rates and sit-ups. Far better to measure yours in licks of ice cream, well-told jokes, mad dashes to be first in the water, belly laughs. And, when you die, it won't be an erratic shift in your heart rate, it will be an overdose of mirth, fun poisoning, death by laughter.

"The giver who gives without being asked will be thrice blessed."

Give of yourselves to someone or something, and have a joyous, happy Easter!

Fifth Dist. art competition for students seeks entries

Thanks to the efforts of high school students throughout the Fifth Congressional District, this year promises to be another Spring that is abloom with Gulf Coast artistic talent. Thirteen years ago the United States Congress inaugurated the celebration of Art Week in each Congressional District.

This event has been renewed by Fifth District Congressman Gene Taylor as an annual gala of creativity.

Cannon Tunnel, a heavily traveled passageway for members of Congress in Washington, D.C., is filled each year with the "Best of Show" from these entries.

The event is heralded as a non-partisan effort to inspire young artists to excel. The competition has enjoyed coastwide volunteer support of people's time, talents and financial backing.

The political boundaries of the Congressional District define the geographic influence of the art, and the use of a Congressman's highly visible name tends to attract a significant number of artists from all sides of the political canvas.

This is art for art lovers of all political color, hue, shade and texture.

The competition should promote a fierce rush on the door of each Congressional Field Office on April 22, and head judge Marlene Saccoccia is prepared for any size crowd. She has been chairman of the coastwide art contest, Chick Days in the Arts, for six years, and she is a weaver and print-maker currently studying with Sheila Springer.

Saccoccia is an occupational therapist who works with young, developmentally disabled children, which strengthens her ability to bring out an individual's strongest personal assets.

She will be assisted by Arthur Williams, a teacher and sculptor at William Carey College. He earned his doctor of arts from Carnegie-Mellon University. He recently revised his textbook, The Sculptor: Technique, Form, Content, that is used in universities all over the country. Another judge will be Joseph Pearson. He received a bachelor of science in art education from Jackson State University, and is a scientific illustrator for the Naval Research Laboratory at Stennis Space Center. COOKING UP A STORM

By Katy McGuire Caire

"Season 'em high, cook 'em long and slow, slow for real Red Beans, that's the winning ticket," said the chefs of the Hancock County Supervisors Team on Monday, after their red beans won the top award, the "Golden Bean" at the fourth annual Red Beans and Rice Cookoff at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

The festive event, for the benefit of the Hancock Chapter of the American Cancer Society, brought out all sorts of talented chefs, as well as a large crowd of hungry and appreciative red beans and rice "eaters."

The supervisors didn't have a recipe as such; who does for red beans? I seldom cook them exactly the same way all the time. But they did, with a little urging, divulge a few of their special secrets for their oh-so-good and creamy beans. And, that's what makes recipes different from one another; the extra touches a chef uses.

"We cook 'em the old-time Cajun way: Soak the beans overnight, cook 'em long and slow, and toward the end of cooking, heap some beans into a small bowl, smash 'em together well, and add them to the pot. That's how you get that creamy gravy, that good, thick creamy gravy," was the word from the winners.

Winners in the Restaurant Category, the chefs of Cafe Reef, cooked their red beans old Creole style, bay leaf and all, well-seasoned and in a rich, creamy "gravy" or sauce.

Corporation Category winners, Calgon Carbon, "put a little of everything into the pot, and cooked the beans a long time" said chefs Scott Lemon, Mike Favre and Jimmie Ladner. This resourceful trio also cooked up a Fish Fry for their families Sunday night and whiled the evening away while the seasoned beans cooked themselves to a turn in preparation for the contest.

Some cooks counted on ham for tasty seasoning, others on sausage, still others on a combination of the two. Some bean pots were on the creamier side, others in thinner gravy. Some beans were spicy-hot, others milder — but I'm sure that there wasn't a bad bean in any pot!

Government Category winners, Bay Mayor Eddie Favre and his Bay St. Louis team, cooked their beans the time-honored way also, plenty of seasoning and long, slow cooking. Like most of us, they didn't cook by a specific formula, but "all got into the act," with Mayor Eddie's brother, Neil Favre, as the chef.

They may not have had a specific recipe for red beans, but their chef's aprons surely proclaimed a special recipe:

MIX: Hospitality, History and Water for 300 years.

ADD: Trees, Shoo-fly, Art for additional 200 years.

GARNISH: with Gaming. Serve over a strong Economy.

How's that for a recipe for success?

In the popular vote, People's Choice winners were Armand's Restaurant, GE Plastics and City of Bay St. Louis. Tommy and Linda Kidd and the crew of Daddy O's won a special award for showmanship.

SECOND PUBLIC HEARING

The City of Bay St. Louis is considering applying to the Mississippi Department of Economic and Community Development (MDECD) for a 1994 Home Investment Partnership Program (HOME) Grant. Citizen participation requirements mandate an initial public hearing in which local input, both verbal and written, is gathered.

Also, a second public hearing is required in which the citizenry is informed of the following:

1. Type of proposed HOME activities,
2. Location of proposed HOME project areas and
3. Reasons for selecting activities and project areas.

The purpose of this notice is to inform the citizenry of the scheduling of the SECOND PUBLIC HEARING. The hearing will be held at City Hall Annex on Tuesday, April 12, 1994 at 9:30 a.m. The above location has been selected because it is accessible to the handicapped.

Something Old,
1-352-9993

Something New.
1(601) 352-9993

There's something new to remember. From now on, when you make long distance calls to telephone numbers within Mississippi's 601 area code, dial 0 or 1 + 601 and then the number you're calling.

The nation's continued telecommunications growth has created a shortage of telephone numbers. By dialing the appropriate area code on all long distance calls, numbers are freed up for new business and residential customers.

If you have long distance numbers within the 601 area code on any programmed services or equipment like Speed Calling, Call Forwarding, modems, or even a FAX machine, now's the time to reprogram them. Effective May 1, 1994, dialing the area code will be necessary to complete long distance calls to telephone numbers within the 601 area.

Diamondhead cleanup

Litter patrolman Ellis Cuevas, left, found two Diamondhead Rotarians and two members of the Business and Professional Association collecting litter along the Diamondhead Interchange March 19, during the countywide cleanup. The two organizations adopted the interchange as their part in the county "litter free" program. Rotary and DB&PA schedule three cleanups annually. An added feature, "cash-in-the-trash," is a part of the program in which several items of litter contain silver dollars or currency which the finder pockets.

Walk for Life

Fund-raiser to benefit
S. Miss. AIDS Task Force

The South Mississippi AIDS Task Force is sponsoring the first annual Walk for Life on April 23 to benefit people with AIDS.

The walk will begin at 8:30 a.m. with registration at the Mississippi Gulf Coast Coliseum in Biloxi and end at Jones Park in Gulfport.

The task force is hoping to sign up 500 participants who will gather financial pledges from donors for the 10-kilometer walk (6.2 miles) along the south side of U.S-90.

The celebration from noon to 3 p.m. at the finish line will feature food, entertainment and awards.

Most of the donations will be gathered by individual walkers, but sponsorships also are being solicited from businesses.

The money raised will be used to provide services to clients with AIDS and to present educational programs on AIDS at schools and churches and to civic organizations and other interested groups.

In 1993, the task force presented its AIDS education program to 4,000 people. The task force, which has offices on Cailavet Street in Biloxi, provided assistance to clients 2,000 times in 1993. The task force has 170 AIDS or HIV-positive clients in its files.

If you would like to participate in Walk for Life or want more information, call 435-3999 or 435-1234.

FISHIN' Y'ALL

By Jim Muness

Ansley area produces abundance of perch

It's time to go fishin' y'all. Looks like fresh water fishin' is the place to be right now. The action is fast and furious and otherwise real good. Most everybody that I talk to has got the fresh water fever real bad. To illustrate, I talked to a fellow by the name of Mike Calamari. He really had a sad tale of woe! It seems that Mike was fishin' a canal around the railroad tracks down in the Ansley area, and his "bag" of perch got so heavy that he had to flag down a passing freight train to haul him and his catch back to the road. Right!

Sometimes the Turtle gets some interesting information and statements from the fishin' buddies to what should be relatively simple, straightforward questions.

For example, I asked Mike Calamari if there was any problem with the gnats in the Ansley area. With a perfectly straight face he told me that the gnats were never a problem to him, because he used them for bait. He stated that he wished that there were more of them around, 'cause, according to him, he needed at least six to bait each hook.

A lot of the fishin' buddies have been looking for a good way to reduce the gnat population, so this might be an idea. The only problem seems to be what size of hook to use when using gnats for bait. Mike supplied the answer at once. It seems that he recommends you use a size 0000 hook. This must be a new size, since I could not find any hooks of this size in any tackle shops in the area.

In fact, most people gave me this funny look when I asked them for a size 0000 hook so I could use gnats for bait. I guess the tackle dealers were surprised Mike knew about such bunches of fish. The way to get to this area is to go on Lower Bay Road till you reach a sign that says "Herron Bay this way."

Follow that road and cross the railroad tracks. There are some canals off to the left once you cross the tracks or you can continue down the road till you get to LaFrance Fish Camp. Toxie and Marie at the camp can direct you to some real nice spots to fish. It is up to you to catch the fish.

Speaking of catching fish, Calamari says, "If you fish more than one hour in this place you should not be fishing." When I asked what he meant by this statement, he told me that within one hour you should have all of the fish you can clean, or your limit, or both. Before I left Mike he asked me to say to Eric Beasley: "Eric you don't know what you are missing by giving them away."

Back to the Ansley area. You can get a map of this area by writing to: Sea Grant, Suite 1-E, 2710 Beach Blvd., Biloxi, MS 39531. Ask for map 874 — Ansley fishing waters guide.

Since I spent a lot of time talking about perch fishing this week, maybe this would be a good time to mention the creel limits. The Mississippi Hunting and Fishing Digest for 1993-94 says on page 43, the limit on bluegill, bream and other sunfish is 100. The limit on crappie is 30. However, the aggregate daily limit of all species is 100 per day.

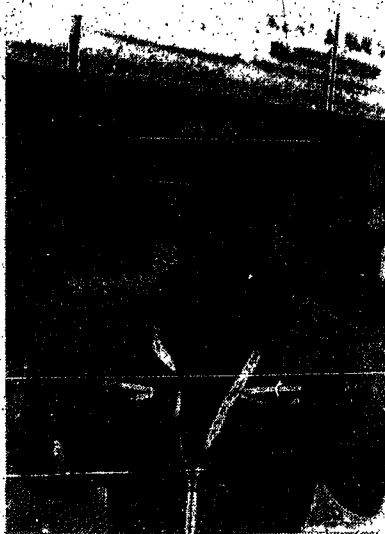

The possession limit is twice the daily permit. Looks like fresh water fishin' rules are similar to saltwater fishin' rules — confusing. If you don't understand the rules, your best bet is to talk to one of the "Green Men" with the flashing blue lights, or call BMR Headquarters located in the Edgewater Mall in Biloxi.

Had a couple of folks call me and voice concerns over the relocation of the Bayou Caddy boat launch. This is the free boat launch, located by Jubilee Casino that the county sold to some local family to sell to the Casino, or something like that. The fisherman who called me were worried that if the boat launch would be located anywhere other than within the protected waters of Bayou Caddy, it would make it dangerous for fishermen who only own small boats and fish the Bayou Caddy area.

The reason is: small boats would have to cross the open water of the Sound to reach Bayou Caddy if the boat launch were to be located, for example, at the foot of Coleman Avenue. The callers said the increased danger of traveling upon water in a small boat would deny them accessibility to the Bay Caddy area.

This week's wonderful wise words: They are muzzifying the huge-mouth bass back on John's Bayou.

I wonder, who makes those 0000 hooks for gnats, Turtle?

new tackle before the dealers knew about it.

Mike stated most of the perch weighed upwards of a pound and were caught using regular old store-bought dead shrimp for bait. He must have run out of gnats, or maybe he lost all of his 0000 size hooks and had only large hooks left in his tackle box, so he had to use store-bought shrimp for bait — whatever.

The Ansley area has a whole bunch of canals, cuts and bayous that are producing nice

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1994

Goodwill accredited by national organization

Goodwill Industries of South Mississippi has recently received a three-year accreditation from CARF (the Commission on Accreditation of Rehabilitation Facilities), the nationally recognized accrediting authority whose concern is to promote quality services for people with disabilities.

This accreditation represents a significant step forward in Goodwill's 20-year effort on the Mississippi Gulf Coast to provide jobs and job training to people with disabilities.

In the survey report Goodwill was credited with "having a dedicated, caring board of directors" and "taking advantage of the growth of the area to enhance and add programs for the persons of the area with disabilities."

Goodwill was reviewed for financial, planning, organizational and management procedures and found to be in conformity with the accepted standards. Goodwill's safety program received high marks.

Goodwill's new rehabilitation program was reviewed in depth and found to be in compliance with the professional standards of the CARF accreditation process. Goodwill has worked hand in hand with the Mississippi Department of Rehabilitation Services to develop quality work adjustment and work service programs to people with disabilities. CARF accreditation confirms the success of this effort.

The CARF accreditation process is now an on-going part of Goodwill's vocational rehabilitation process and will help to assure continuous improvement in Goodwill's quality of services to people with disabilities on the Mississippi Gulf Coast. It is also a mark of excellence that will aid Goodwill in securing additional programs of service to the community.

Mississippi Gardens

...to keep in mind when choosing plants for your garden. The quality and color of the fruit is not what it should be. Fruit trees deprived of full sun may not even bloom.

The normal apple and pear trees are large. Mature trees can overpower a small residential property, so consider semi-dwarf or fully dwarf trees.

Dwarf trees may require special support such as staking, but they allow you to plant more trees in a limited space, make it easier to spray for disease and insect control, and reach a bearing age much sooner than full-size trees.

Winter temperatures impact decisions on what fruit and which varieties to plant. Citrus and kiwi fruit are limited to the coast because the winter temperatures are too cold everywhere else in the state. The coastal counties frequently experience freezing temperatures which make citrus risky even there.

Sweet cherries and apricots may not receive enough cold during the winter to meet the requirements to break dormancy even in North Mississippi.

Limit varieties of adapted fruit with low chilling requirements to South Mississippi since a mid-winter warm spell in northern counties may bring them into bloom exposing them to freeze damage.

Peach varieties with a chilling requirement of 750 to 1,000 hours are best for north Mississippi. Varieties with a 450 hour requirement are for the southern part of the state.

Many fruit trees and plants cannot pollinate them-

...both the same time. There is a recommendation to plant more than one variety of blueberry for cross-pollination to bring about maximum berry production.

There are two types of muscadine vines based on the flowers they produce. Vines that produce only female flowers won't produce any berries if there aren't vines nearby that produce pollen. However, you can plant just one vine of the type that produces pollen and have berries on that vine. In that case, both vines have berries.

A whole series of information sheets are called Fruit and Nut Review are available at your county extension-

The sheets list recommended varieties, whether or not a pollinator is required and what part of the state is best. There is information on planting, pruning and training where this is an important part of production.

Another publication, Fruit and Nut Recommendations for Mississippi, is a list of recommended varieties along with varietal descriptions.

Growing fruit can be a rewarding experience if it is done right, and planting the correct variety is crucial to success. No amount of hard work can turn a bad varietal choice into a good one, so be sure you start off right.

Sesqui Project

SSC students learn archeology hands-on

Sixth and seventh graders and juniors of St. Stanislaus participated in a unit of lectures and field work as a component of the Sesqui Project, a 10-year archeological investigation of the campus.

Mark Geiger from the Naval Oceanographic Office spoke to the sixth and seventh graders on bio-luminescence and plankton, and Jan Dubuisson showed slides of the birds that frequent the marshes of South Mississippi.

Also, the students did field work in the marsh in front of the school with their teacher, Mary Jo Barr, and with Dr. Marco Giardino, project mentor.

Barr received a grant to build a boardwalk in the marsh so that the students may better use the area as an outdoor classroom.

Chemistry teacher Fred Cherota lectured to the juniors on soil analysis, and Dr. Erwin Otvos, director of the Gulf Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs, spoke on the geology of the Mississippi Coast.

Directed by Giardino, students took soil samples from a field which was a former creek bed. These samples will then be analyzed during regular laboratory sessions.

SSC juniors conduct soil analysis.
